Our Guédry-Labine & Petitpas Reunion is only two months away on October 8th. In this issue of "GENERATIONS" learn the latest about the upcoming Reunion. If you haven't attended one before, you should consider attending this Reunion. You won't forget it. You'll meet cousins from throughout North America, enjoy some great Cajun music, see and hear presentations about your family and its history, view many displays about the family and about the local area along Bayou Lafourche, eat delicious home-cooked Cajun food and even purchase some souvenirs to take back home. You may even want to consider enjoying our family Cajun Swamp Cruise with Black Guidry on October 10th and/or delve into early Acadian history in Louisiana on our Historic Acadian Tour on October 14th. A Reunion Registration Form is attached to this issue of "GENERATIONS". The Registration and Tour fees are very modest. Our fees are set to cover our costs and encourage attendance.

St. Gabriel Roman Catholic Church-Iberville Parish, LA

Why not try out a couple of great Cajun recipes from South Louisiana while contemplating the good times you'll have at the Reunion. Visit our Bon Appetit page for taste-tempting recipes of Creole Stewed Corn and Deep Delta Shrimp. Both are truly delicious.

Our Book Nook reviews books spanning the next two Reunions. The Attakapas Country provides a superb history of the Acadian people of Lafayette Parish, Louisiana. And as you begin thinking about the Congres Mondial Acadien of 2014 in the Madawaska, Maine area consider perusing Acadian Culture in Maine. This is a free download from the Internet that provides not only a brief history of the Acadians in Maine, but also highlights historic Acadian structures and sights not to be missed by the visitor.

Finally, in this issue we continue our review of extant Acadian church records. This second part of the series focuses on the immediate post-deportation period from 1755 to 1800 in the United States. You may be surprised at some of the states where Acadian church records from this period are located. Church records are often some of the most difficult genealogical records to find, yet are the most productive and accurate records available. Use this guide to further your genealogical research and learn more about your ancestors.

After a blistering hot, summer that left much of the North America in a drought, I hope you enjoy the cooler temperatures sure to come this fall. I look forward to meeting new cousins and visiting with everyone at the Reunion on October 8th. Our team has been working hard planning this Reunion for YOU. Come enjoy yourself and meet your cousins.

Historic Acadian Tour

On 14 October 2011 we will have an Historic Acadian Tour that will last all day. The tour will be limited to 25 persons due to the size of the facilities we will visit. We will leave from the Lafayette, LA area by air-conditioned bus. Stops confirmed thus far include:

(1) a rare tour of the old St. Gabriel Catholic Church in St. Gabriel, LA. This church was built by Acadians in 1776 and is approximately 73% original. It is the oldest religious structure in the Mississippi Valley. Although the exterior of the church can be seen at any time, the church is no longer in use, and thus locked. It is maintained by the congregation of the new St. Gabriel Church. . We will be able to go inside the old church and will hear a presentation by the church historians on the history and architecture of the church.

GUÉDRY-LABINE & PETITPAS REUNION OUR SIXTH REUNION

(2) a unique opportunity to view and use the historic St-Charles-aux-Mines Catholic Church records of 1707-1748. When the Acadians were exiled from Grand-Pre, Acadia in late 1755, they were able to take some of their church records with them. Amazingly, three volumes of these records survived not only the initial deportation, but over ten years of exile in Maryland and the voyage and resettlement in Louisiana. For almost two hundred years the records were kept in little St. Gabriel Catholic Church. In the mid-1900's they were moved to the Catholic Diocese of Baton Rouge Archives in Baton Rouge, LA. This will be only the third time that they have been made available to the public.

(3) viewing the vast vacherie (cattle ranch) lands of Pierre Guédry - an exiled Acadian who came to LA in 1768 with nothing, suffered tragedy after tragedy in his life, but managed to acquire a fortune as a cattle rancher by the time of his death in 1825.

(4) lunch at a fine Cajun restaurant. (The cost of lunch will be at one's own expense.)

In addition to the above, I am trying to get permission to view the oldest known Guédry home in Louisiana. It was built in the late 1790's and has a very interesting and unique history including being used as a hospital in the Civil War and being haunted.

During the tour we will ride through 18 miles of the Atchafalaya Swamp - the largest remaining swamp in the United States. As we end the tour, we'll travel off the beaten path through the Cajun prairie country and the historic Cajun villages of Grand Coteau and Arnaudville.

The cost of the Historic Acadian Tour will be $45 per person. We will travel in a comfortable, air-conditioned school bus that accommodates up to 48 people so there will be plenty of room for all.

L'ORDRE DU BON TEMPS

For those wanting to share in an unique opportunity, the Acadian Memorial will have their annual L'Ordre du Bon Temps supper from 7-10 pm on 13 October in Cade, LA - just outside Lafayette. The L'Ordre du Bon Temps is the oldest supper club in North America - begun in 1606 by Champlain at Port Royal, Acadia. The Acadian Memorial models their L'Ordre du Bon Temps supper after that of Port-Royal with a Louisiana twist. There will be Acadians and Native Americans dressed in period costume, superb food by outstanding Cajun chefs and entertainment.

Dr. Stephen White, premier Acadian genealogist and historian and recently retired from the Centre d'Études Acadiennes Anselme-Chiasson of the Université de Moncton (New Brunswick) will attend and present a unique presentation in costume on a very special Acadian.

The cost is $50/person for the evening. If you are interested in attending, please email me at guidryrm@cox.net and I'll put your name on the Acadian Memorial attendee list for tickets.

THE ATTAKAPAS COUNTRY

A History of Lafayette Parish, Louisiana

By Harry Lewis Griffin

This comprehensive volume traces the history of Lafayette Parish, from its earliest beginnings and the struggle between the Attakapas Indians and the first white settlers, French Canadians, English traders, and French trappers to the conditions in 1959, when this historical work was first published. Over the course of this history, Griffin analyses everything from the territorial and political evolution of the parish to the development of transportation and travel, and from the founding of the schools to the early financial and industrial conditions.

Griffin also provides accounts of the flood of 1927, the greatest challenge Lafayette Parish had to overcome in its early history and a sign of the persevering spirit that would help the parish to overcome such destructive forces. While he was in Chicago, he made the acquaintance of Messers. H. C. Bond and A. W. Bittle, who, as members of the Southwestern Faculty, spoke so highly of him to the University that his appointment as Professor of History and Political Science followed immediately.

We use black pepper and Tony Chachere's for seasoning as it seems to complement the corn and tomato flavor. Salt to taste. Adding shrimp is optional. This dish is even better the next day! This is a recipe I've used for years and it's still a favorite. It's very easy and whenever I cook this dish, it all gets eaten up. (Suzie Dossat Russell)

1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup flour
2 onions
1 green pepper, sliced
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 clove of minced garlic
1 bay leaf
A pinch of oregano
1/2 tbsp Tabasco sauce
1 tbsp chili powder
1 tbsp salt
1 tbsp Worcestershire sauce
1- 6 ounce can tomato paste
3 cups water
2 lbs raw shrimp (peeled and de-veined)
2 2/3 cups rice

2 onions, chopped
1.5 to 2 sticks butter
4 cans of whole kernel yellow corn, drained
1 can whole tomatoes
2 bay leaves
2 tsp thyme (or more to taste)
Garlic or garlic powder to taste (heavy or light)
Pepper/Tony Chachere's Seasoning

Melt butter in a cast iron dutch oven. Sauté onions in butter until almost clear. Add all of the seasonings and stir occasionally. Continue to cook for 10-20 minutes, add tomatoes and juice. Cut or smash tomatoes so they cook down easily. Reduce heat to medium-low, cover and cook for 30 minutes. Partially crack the cover to let the

Golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Telismar Guidry will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with an open house from 1 - 5 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 7 in their home on the Country Club Road. Friends and relatives are invited to attend the event. Their daughter, Mrs. Robert E. Coe, is a resident of Lake Charles. A son, Clifford Guidry, is deceased. The couple has nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Martin Guidry Sr., a native of Rayne, rode his horse "Snap" to Mansfield and fought in the Civil War. Both he and the horse survived the battle and he rode his horse back to Rayne. Upon his arrival in Rayne, he discovered the railroad was built next to his house. In an ironic turn of events, Snap the horse, who survived the Civil War, was killed by a train. Guidry lived in the small house on North Eastern between the railroad tracks and Mauboules Park. (Courtesy Annette Gossen.)

EXTANT ACADIAN RECORDS
PART II: ACADIAN CHURCH RECORDS
UNITED STATES & CARIBBEAN
(POST-DEPORTATION: 1755-1800)
by Martin Guidry

Part I of this article discussed the Catholic churches in Acadia before 1759, where they were located, what records have survived to this day and where they are located.

With the deportation and subsequent dispersion of the Acadians along the Atlantic seaboard of North America as well as France and England from 1755 through 1759, finding primary source information about individual Acadians often is difficult. The Acadians were quite mobile during this period – moving from town to town and occasionally between states in North America and provinces in Europe.

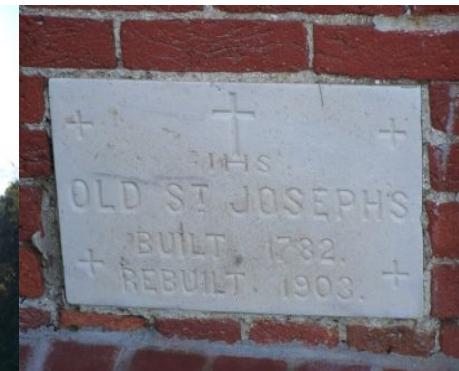

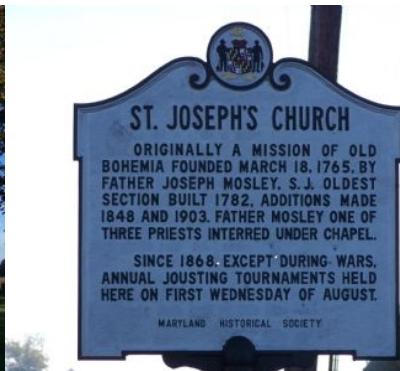

With the end of the French and Indian War and the signing of the Treaty of Paris in 1763, the Acadians once again underwent a major movement to French and former French regions of North America – Québec, Louisiana and Saint-Domingue (Haiti). One group of Acadians moved from England to France and then Louisiana during this period while other Acadians returned to their motherland – now English Nova Scotia.

As in the pre-deportation period, original church records are one of the best primary sources since they almost always were recorded immediately following the event by the priest or minister and often had witnesses to the event sign the document and provide family information as parent and grandparent names, location of their residence, etc.

The Guédry family during the post-deportation period was no different than other Acadian families. They were deported to many locations in North America and Europe. After 1763 they resettled in Québec and Louisiana and for a brief period in Saint-Domingue (Haiti). One Guédry remained hidden in Nova Scotia throughout the deportation period and then resettled in English Nova Scotia after 1763.

The towns and villages where the Acadians were deported along the Atlantic seaboard and in England often were not Catholic and not French; therefore, few Acadians participated actively in local church services and received the sacraments. Records of Acadian baptisms, marriages and funerals are almost non-existent in many areas during this period.

This listing of post-deportation Acadian church records is not exhaustive, but will provide some of the key locations for finding primary source information on the Acadians during this critical post-deportation period.

St. Joseph's Church, near Queen Anne, Maryland

CONNECTICUT

It is not known which, if any churches in Connecticut, contain records of Acadians deported there in 1756.

Towns to which Acadians were sent and in which church records mentioning the Acadians may exist are:

Fairfield County (Danbury, Fairfield, Greenwich, Newton, Norwalk, Stamford, Stratford)
Hartford County (Enfield, Farmington, Glassenbury, Hartford, Suffield, Symsbury, Weathersfield, Windsor)
Litchfield County (Woodbury)

Tolland County (Bolton, Coventry, Hebron, Mansfield, Tolland)
Windham County (Ashford, Canterbury, Killingly, Plainfield, Pomfret, Windham, Woodstock)

GEORGIA

Most Acadians deported to Georgia in 1755 did not remain there long. With the Governor's approval most Acadians took boats north in hopes of reaching Acadia. Those that remained left few, if any, records. In 1793 during the L'Ouverture slave uprising in Saint-Domingue (Haiti) a number of Acadians fled Saint-Domingue (Haiti) and landed in ports along the southeastern seaboard of the United States. Several of those entering Charleston, SC eventually went to St. Marys, GA in the early 1800's.
